Cooper City maintains Elevation Certificates through the Growth Management Department. Call 954-434-4300, ext. 249 or make a request online at www.coopercityfl.org.

The Utilities Department will respond to requests from property owners who have a flood, sewer, water, or drainage problem and discuss recommended solutions. Cooper City depends on the National Weather Service for flood warning and other weather related warnings/notifications. If flooding or a hurricane is anticipated, the Flood Warning or Hurricane Warning will be broadcast through television, radio, and internet services. Residents should monitor television, radio (preferably battery-powered), or internet weather broadcasts and be aware of special local advisories. The most serious threat of general flooding is during hurricane season (June 1st through November 30th).

Cooper City also has a CodeRED Emergency Notification System which allows Cooper City Emergency Management Personnel to telephone all targeted areas of the City in case of an emergency (such as boil water, missing child or evacuation notices, etc.). To sign up, click the CodeRED button on our website at www.coopercityfl.org.

Do not enter flooded areas or moving water on foot or in a vehicle. The depth of the water is not always obvious. Moving water has tremendous power. Six inches of moving water has the potential to knock you off your feet, and a foot of water can sweep a large SUV off of the road. Be especially cautious at night when it is harder to recognize flood dangers. Protecting yourself today means having sources of information, preparing your home or workplace, and developing an emergency communication plan. Know what to do when a flood is approaching your home or business.

Homeowners, renters, and business owners should consider purchasing Flood Insurance now for your building and its contents!

Standard homeowners' insurance does not cover flood damage. There is a 30-day waiting period for most flood insurance to become effective after purchase. 🌿

Welcome to Chris Averill, Our New Recreation Director

If you attended Founder's Day or any of the City's recent Recreational events, you've probably seen or met Chris Averill, our new Recreation Director. We are fortunate to benefit from her 24 years of Parks & Recreation experience with the City of Miramar. Chris enjoys spending time with her family and giving back to the community by volunteering to coach a girls softball travel team in her spare time.

As the newest member of Cooper City's Recreation team, she is looking forward to joining a department staffed by many dedicated and talented professionals and she is eager to continue to enhance and expand the City's recreation activities, aquatic programs, city-wide special events and rental opportunities for residents to enjoy. As a South Florida native and a graduate of Cooper City High School, Chris says, "It feels nice to be home, as Cooper City is definitely "Someplace Special!" 🍃
